Diplomats Expect Week-End Report for New Meeting of Foreign Ministers Council; Conference With Stalin Does Not Materialize

Moscow, Aug. 6 (AP)—Envoys of the United States, Britain and France called today on Foreign Minister Molotov. U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith entered the Kremlin first. Frank Roberts, special British envoy, and French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau followed him immediately. The same three conferred Monday night with Prime Minister Stalin, seeking a basis for ending the Berlin blockade and resolving other east-west differences. The Kremlin conference started at 5 p. m. (9 a. m. E.S.T.). Stalin was not believed present at this meeting, which the western diplomats had sought with the foreign minister.

F.C.C. Warns Radio Programs Offering Chances at Wealth

Get-Rich-Quick Spots Are to Be Curbed, if Not Put Out Altogether

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Like a stern but not too hopeful parent, the Federal Communications Commission shook a warning finger today at the get-rich-quick radio programs popping out all over the dial.

The station-licensing agency said disapprovingly that "an almost infinite number" of these border on "illegal lotteries or gift enterprises."

So the commission announced a set of proposed new regulations aimed at curbing, if not eliminating, many of the programs currently offering fabulous cash, travel and merchandise gifts to lucky listeners.

In essence, the rules say there must be no more such giveaways based in any way "upon lot of chance."

Not can the winners be required to (a) furnish any money or other thing of value (b) possess the sponsoring product or (c) be a resident of the listening or viewing area.

The commission didn't say when the new clampdown will become effective. But it said it will listen to interested parties up to September 10.

Privately, commission sources said the agency fears that the prize programs are throwing the national radio picture "out of focus," and leading the industry away from the "broad basic purposes of broadcasting."

Stars Are Complaining
These sources said there have been complaints from some top flight comedians and other entertainers that their gigs or art are being lost to listeners hoping for complete housing, a house painting job or a free trip to Bermuda for two, all expenses paid.

Still privately, the commission left no doubt that it regards the task of getting the giveaway programs off the air as no easy undertaking.

Actually, the springboard for the F.C.C. plunge into the $100,000-a-week nationwide prize pool was a modest venture just across the Potomac river from communist headquarters here.

What the commission did was give its blessing to an examiner's report on a program broadcast by Station WRL in nearby Arlington, Va., during most of last year. Entitled "Dollars For Answers," the program consisted of the periodic reading of a question and the correct answer, followed immediately by a telephone call to a person selected at random from the telephone book.

The question was repeated. If the person called came up promptly with the answer, he got a cash prize ranging from $2 to $48. The range depended on how many correct answers were given.

3,500 Drowned

Flood in China Leaves 100,000 Homeless in Honan

Nanking, Aug. 6 (AP)—Flood waters of the Yellow river drowned nearly 3,500 persons and left 400,000 homeless in the rich North Honan Province, official reports released here today said.

The Water Conservation Commission said reports from North Honan magistrates described the flood the worst in 100 years. More than 1,000,000 fertile acres were flooded.

Frequently preliminary reports of this nature are exaggerated as to casualties.

Farben Breakup Will Be Made by British, Americans

Cartel Empire Will End Forever Under Ruling by Allies; Plants to Be Sold

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 6 (AP)—British and American authorities set out today to chop the giant I. G. Farben chemical cartel into small pieces. Their plans are intended not only to break up the billion-dollar trust, but to keep it that way.

"One of the objectives of military government in the combined economic area (Bizonia) is that the I. G. Farben empire shall not be reconstituted," an announcement said.

"The independent units that are to be established will be required to operate independently and in competition with each other in accordance with the requirements and as part of the overall economic German industrial program."

Scores of Farben plants are to be offered for sale. One U. S. officer estimated the number at "about 50," but said he did not have the exact figure.

Sales of the properties — now split into independent units by four-power order — will be carried out by German authorities. For the time being, the sales will affect only properties in the British and American occupation zones, but French authorities have been notified and are expected to follow suit.

The action was taken by the British and Americans independently of the Russians. It represents a break in the former quadripartite control of the British and American occupation zones, but French authorities have been notified and are expected to follow suit.

The new plan for control of Farben, 13 directors of which were convicted and sentenced for war crimes last week at Nuremberg, called for:

1. Establishment of a British-American control board.

2. Creation of a six to eight-man German "I. G. Farben dispersion panel."

Since U. S. and British military governments consider "dispersion" of the billion-dollar chemical empire to be basically a German task, decisions on breaking up the trust will be left to them "wherever possible."

Man, 34, Is Injured In Fall From Hotel

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—A man identified as John W. Sample, 34, was critically injured today when he fell or jumped from a fifth floor room of the Hotel Park Lane.

The man's address was not known, but police said they found among his papers the name of W. W. Sample, of 555 Forest avenue, Foley, Fla., believed to be a relative.

Other papers indicated the victim formerly was employed in the research department of the National Broadcasting Company, and that he served as a Marine Corps lieutenant in the war, police said.

Cragan Arrested As Associate in $50 Million Lottery

South Manor Avenue Man Picked up by Troopers; Raids Are Made in Six Counties

Troopers at the Lake Katrine station today said they took into custody a local man accused of being part of a statewide lottery machine that netted operators $50,000,000 a year.

Arrested on a charge of possessing and distributing lottery tickets was Joseph Cragan, 54, of 105 South Manor avenue, according to the Lake Katrine troopers who said that he would be taken up-state for arraignment.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP)—State Police staged simultaneous raids in six counties today to smash two statewide lotteries which they said netted operators $50,000,000 a year.

Chief Inspector Francis S. McGarvey said three arrests had been made and others were expected.

He said 100 troopers participated in the raids, still in progress this morning.

McGarvey said troopers struck in Schenectady, Saratoga, Jefferson, Broome, Chemung and Queens counties.

One ring, he said, operated the $25,000,000 "Blue Ribbon," "Eagle" and "Eagle" lotteries. The other operated the "Peoples and Empire" lottery, McGarvey said.

Third Since March
The raids were the third large-scale sweeps since last March.

Last April 29, state police smashed a $25,000,000 a year lottery ring with simultaneous raids in 16 upstate counties. "Twenty-six men arrested in the raids paid fines totaling $47,000. The 'center of operations' was said to be in Schenectady."

Another $5,000,000 a year lottery, with headquarters in the U. S. area, was broken up March 11. The 12 men arrested in eight communities were fined a total of $32,000.

McGarvey said the lotteries involved in today's raids paid off the daily U. S. Treasury bill.

He said Jack McCauley, 108 Vley Road, Scotia, was arrested at Scotia. Continued on Page Five

The Fitzpatrick auto, the police said, attempted to avoid a car ahead at the time.

Those injured were Ursula Love, who suffered shock; William Love, who reported a thigh injury, and Oscar Jahn, who was riding with them, and who reported a sprained neck and injured left arm. They were treated by a doctor in Port Ewen.

Bishop Attacked by Gunman And Youth, 17, Is Killed

Bolton, Mass., Aug. 6 (AP)—A bruised young gunman who, police said, admitted firing two wild shots at Suffragan Episcopal Bishop Raymond A. Heron and the fatal shooting and axing of a 17-year-old youth in the clergyman's home was held on open charges today.

Frederick S. Pike, 19, of Boston, was held at Holden State Police barracks after being brought from Providence, R. I., where he was captured yesterday in the bishop's car three hours after the shooting.

Pike waived extradition and was turned over to Massachusetts authorities after. Police Chief Charles A. Higgins and Capt. John J. Lang of Providence said, he admitted in a signed statement he shot at the bishop and

Mule Shoots Self At Highland While Examining Pistol

Brooklyn Man Is Taken to Hospital; Cousin Is Held for Grand Jury

Ignazio Mule, 35, of 194 Bay 22nd street, Brooklyn, accidentally shot himself in the left side yesterday morning at the home of his cousin in Highland, according to the state police.

The Brooklyn man was handling a .32 calibre revolver which had been found near the old ferry landing at Highland by the cousin, Ignazio Borsina, 20, of Main street, Highland. It discharged as Mule held it near his body at about 8:30 a. m., Thursday.

Borsina was arrested on a charge of unlawfully possessing the revolver. He waived examination and was released in the custody of his mother pending grand jury action when arraigned before Peace Justice Albert Lester at Highland yesterday afternoon.

Police said the mishap was not reported to them until shortly before 1 p. m., Thursday, and they reported that Mule apparently thought at first that the slug had not entered his side. He was treated by a doctor and later taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, where his condition was reported "fair" today.

Borsina found the revolver while he was fishing along the waterfront at Highland, the police said. Continued on Page Five

Quill Says Bus, Trolley Workers Will Go on Strike

Only Alternative, He Tells Officials, Is That Union Demands Be Met

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—International President Michael J. Quill promised today that Local 100, C.I.O. Transport Workers Union, would strike tomorrow against a bus-trolley system serving 2,000,000 daily riders "unless the union's demands are met."

Quill, who also is a city councilman, made his announcement after he arrived at LaGuardia Field from Seattle after a brief conference with local officials at the airport.

The union has announced that 4,000 members will leave their jobs on the Third Avenue Transit System at 4 a. m., tomorrow.

The strike call was issued shortly after the Third Avenue company, ticked by the city's refusal to approve a three-cent fare increase, began laying off employees in a retrenchment move.

The company dismissed 52 workers Wednesday, another 103 yesterday, and announced it would not be able to pay a 24-cent hourly wage increase previously promised employees.

Unions Hogan, president of Local 100 of the T.W.U., said union members "will not stand for tampering with the 24-cent an hour wage increase."

John M. MacDonald, president of the transit firm, described as "completely ruinous" the seven-cent fare approved for the system by the Board of Estimate early this week.

The company and two affiliates had asked to boost fares from five to eight cents.

Special Session
In a move to counter the threatened stoppage, the Board of Estimate went into a special closed session yesterday, and reportedly worked out an alternate fare-fixing plan.

Under it, private transit lines would go directly to the Public Service Commission to obtain approval of fare changes, rather than first obtaining city approval, reports said.

City approval of the fare, however, would have to come later, it was said.

William Reid, chairman of the Board of Transportation, and Corporation Counsel John P. McGrath were reported to be seeking to persuade the Third Avenue and

Boost in Gold Reserves Is Stricken Out; Okays Curbs on Buying

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee approved today two principal changes in the Republican anti-inflation bill passed by the House yesterday.

The committee struck out a House provision calling for a boost in Federal Reserve Bank gold reserves, which Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and federal reserve officials said would do nothing to stop inflation.

It also raised the reserve requirements of banks which are members of the federal reserve system.

The House had approved reserve increases of 1 and 3 per cent respectively on time and demand deposits. The Senate committee raised the figure to 5 and 10 per cent. President Truman had asked for 10 and four per cent.

The committee also approved the reimposition of restrictions on installment buying which the House had voted. It changed the effective date however, from next March 15 to June 30.

A proposal by Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) to freeze all prices as of last midnight was lost on a five to five committee vote.

Chairman Tobey (R-N.H.) told reporters he does not know whether the committee bill has the approval of Senate Republican party leaders.

Tobey offered a motion in the committee to give Mr. Truman the stand-by price and wage controls and allocation powers which he asked. The proposal was voted down six to four.

Meeting an hour earlier than usual, the Senate set aside two hours to argue the issue of government-financed housing before a vote promised at noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Up for decision then will be a revised version of the Taft-Elender-Wagner bill. That measure passed the Senate in the regular session but ran into a House log jam.

As a substitute, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) offered a bill deleting the T-E-W provisions for federal financing of low-rent housing and slum clearance projects.

Wouldn't Foresee Result
McCarthy wouldn't forecast the result. Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), said most of the 45 Senate Democrats would back the T-E-W bill.

But Senator Taft (R-Ohio), one of the authors of the T-E-W measure, swung his weight behind the McCarthy proposal.

Taft told reporters that while he wants federal-financed housing, it can wait until the January session. He said he is certain that the House won't pass any housing bill at all if it wraps up that provision.

Chairman Tobey (R-N.H.) of the Senate Banking Committee was on the other side. Tobey, calling on his colleagues to repudiate the McCarthy proposal, let it fly at a hot P. M. triumph virate that's been blocking the will of the people on housing."

He named Speaker Martin (Mass.), Republican leader Halecki (Ind.) and Banking Committee Chairman Wolcott (Mich.).

"Let's find out who is running the country," Tobey cried out in his speech, "a little oligarchy, or the people of the country."

While the Republicans were falling out over the issue, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, quietly planted a bomb near the anti-inflation bill.

That measure—which whooped through the House yesterday by a 264 to 97 vote—went before Tobey's Banking Committee (8:30 a. m. E.S.T.) for a quick preview and expected to bring it to the Senate floor later in the day.

Barkley told a reporter administration supporters were ready to offer President Truman's price-wage and rationing controls as amendments in the committee.

There seemed every likelihood that the Republicans in command of the committee would step on the fuse of that bomb quickly.

But Barkley said that isn't all. The Senate, he predicted, will get a chance to vote directly—as the House didn't—on Mr. Truman's proposals. The House had banned any amendments from the House floor, but Senate rules provide for no such "take it or leave it" maneuver.

If the whole Senate gets into a hot fight over the Truman program, that might delay the headlong rush for adjournment indicated if the Senate takes the McCarthy housing bill.

Attorney General Clark Refuses to Yield F.B.I. Records on Remington

Witness Is Met
House Committee Is Out of Town to Talk With Mystery Person

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Senators investigating Communist spy ring charges today suspended public hearings because they said the Truman Administration refuses to give them necessary facts.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee announced the decision. He made public also a refusal by Attorney General Tom Clark to supply official F.B.I. records on William W. Remington.

Meantime, the House Un-American Activities Committee went underground for a secret meeting with a mystery witness in its own similar investigation.

A subcommittee was sent out of town to interview this witness at an undisclosed place. Rep. Mundt (R-S.D.), acting chairman of the Full Committee, said this man's testimony, together with other testimony already gathered, "will prove the existence of a Communist spy ring which reached high into the government during the war."

Clark's refusal to turn over the F.B.I. records on Remington was in line with an order from President Truman who denounced the Congressional hearings yesterday as a "red herring" intended to divert public attention from what he calls the refusal of the Republican-controlled Congress to enact adequate anti-inflation legislation.

Remington, 30-year-old suspended Commerce Department official, was identified by Elizabeth T. Bentley as one of several government workers she says passed wartime information to her for a Communist espionage ring.

Miss Bentley testified she was a courier, traveling between New York and Washington, for the ring.

Will Dig for Facts
Although public hearings are being suspended, Ferguson said the Senate group will continue to dig for facts on Remington and the entire government loyalty program at closed hearings and "by any legal means."

The House subcommittee went to unusual efforts to keep its activities from being known.

A heavy curtain of secrecy, almost akin to wartime censorship, was drawn around movements of the subcommittee. The names and number of members were a deep secret for some reason that nobody would explain.

The subcommittee was supposed to leave last night, arrive at its destination by noon today, start questioning the mystery man this afternoon, and get back to Washington by Monday.

The special hearing group was set up late yesterday when an investigator hurried into a locked-door committee meeting with word that another key witness had been uncovered.

Mundt said that as a result the spy ring case ought to be cracked "wide open" by public hearings next week. Hearings for the rest of this week were ruled out.

However, the Senate Investigating Committee went ahead with its sessions digging into the way the government's loyalty program is being operated. The central figure in the Senate inquiry is William W. Remington, suspended Commerce Department official named by Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley as a source of war-

Schirick Reserves Decision in Seitz Salary Petition

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick today reserved decision until September following argument of counsel in the action brought by Deputy City Clerk Harry Seitz to collect a difference of $486 in his salary.

Argument centered on the question of whether action of the Common Council in adopting a budget which included the specific salary provision of $2,114 for the city clerk, was sufficient to effect a reduction.

Corporation Counsel James G. Connolly contends this action of the council is sufficient and Attorney John E. Holt-Harris, Jr., of the firm of DeGraff and Foy, of Albany, associate counsel for the Civil Service Employees Association, State of New York, appearing for Seitz, argued that precedent favors the petitioner.

The action is brought specifically against Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and City Treasurer Oscar A. Goodall and papers instituting it were served on them last week by George E. Yerry, Jr., representing City Employees Local 316 A.F.L.

The deputy city clerk's salary was fixed at $2,114 last year, but with the reduction of the budget to come within the two per cent limitation clause, the increase was not put into effect, and he has been paid at the rate of $2,114.

Judge Schirick set no date in September for a report on his decision.

Walker, Once Golf Champ, Dies Today In Lodging Cell

Hackensack, N. J., Aug. 6 (AP)—Cyril Walker, 57, one of the nation's leading golfers in the 1920's, was found dead today in a cell at police headquarters where he had been given a night's lodging.

Walker, a native of England, won the U. S. open golf championship in 1924, defeating Bobby Jones by three strokes at Oakland Hills, Detroit.

Police Sgt. Daniel Debus said Walker applied last night for lodging and was permitted to stay in a cell.

Debus said he went to awaken Walker this morning and found him sitting in a chair. Death was due to natural causes, the police sergeant said.

Walker, a frail man who weighed about 125 pounds, once won the Massachusetts open and the Princess Anne open in Georgia.

His first job in America was as a demonstrator in the golf department of a New York city department store.

He later became pro at the Shackamaxon Country Club outside Newark, N. J., and then went to the Idle Hour Country Club in Georgia.

In 1920 he was named pro at the Englewood, N. J., Country Club, third oldest golf club in the country. He also served as pro at the Glenhurst Country Club near Oklahoma City and at the Saddle River, N. J., Country Club.

He had not been active in golf in recent years. Police said he had been earning a living as a counterman and dishwasher in this area.

time secrets from Russian spies. Remington has denied this.

Mundt left the impression that the mystery witness turned up by the House group has had some sore of dealing with the Communist underground or spy network. But he wouldn't say so definitely.

He described the man as "a person in a very splendid position to tell the whole story."

When his testimony is added to that of Miss Bentley and Whitaker Chambers, Mundt said, the committee expects to fill in gaps and build up "adequate proof to bear out their statements about the spy ring."

Miss Bentley and Chambers have described themselves as former Communists. Chambers told of being a Red from 1924 to 1937 and serving as a courier for an underground "apparatus" in Washington. Miss Bentley testified that she was a wartime courier who took secret information obtained from government officials and put it into the pipeline to Russia.

Both Chambers and Miss Bentley named a number of people with whom they said they dealt. Mundt said the new witness is not expected to back up any charges the two have made against individuals, only the general picture they have drawn of how Communists infiltrated the government.

Ordered to Find Out
At yesterday's committee meeting, the investigative staff was ordered to go to the bottom of testimony by Chambers and Alger Hiss, who gave the committee completely contradictory testimony under oath.

Chambers had said Hiss was part of the pre-war Red underground in Washington, that he had been in Hiss's home, that he tried to get Hiss to break away from the Reds, that Hiss broke into tears and gave "party line" reasons for refusing.

Hiss put in a blanket denial yesterday, and Mundt himself called his testimony "rather convincing." But he said some members thought Chambers was just as convincing. Chambers issued a statement saying he is standing by his testimony.

So, eventually the committee expects to question the two again, perhaps face to face.

Mundt said there could be a case of mistaken identity or mis-use of names. But if there is any proof of perjury, he said, the committee will carry the case to the Justice Department.

The acting chairman also snapped at President Truman's "red herring" at the spy hearings. The Chief Executive told a news conference yesterday the hearings are intended to cover up congressional failure to act on his anti-inflation program.

"It seems to me," Mundt said, "that if the President wants the country to believe the committee is engaged in dragging a red herring over the trail the thing for him to do is to give the committee access to the employment files so the country can judge for itself."

He said Mr. Truman has placed a "freeze" on both employment and loyalty records of government employees the committee wants to question.

"A freeze order that goes that far," Mundt said, "is an effort to prevent a committee of Congress from getting the facts."

That's what Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the Senate investigating group, has been saying all along.

As for Mr. Truman's rap at the hearings, Ferguson said he wouldn't have any comment now because his committee "has further work to do on this case." The Michigan senator went out a statement in which he added:

"Congress compelled the investigation of a loyalty inquiry into subversive elements who have infiltrated the public service. The Senate committee has the clear responsibility to see that the executive department carries it out in good faith."

"We intend to pursue our inquiry and to develop the true facts, and we shall be content to let the public judge their seriousness."

Ferguson's group has been trying to get its hands on the personnel file of Remington who fired his suspension in June headed a Commerce Department committee which passed on shipments of goods to Russia. His pay was $9,775 a year.

The committee got some papers, but all data bearing on loyalty had been removed.

Two City Court Cases
William P. May, 35, of Hartsdale, pleaded innocent in city court this morning to a charge of failing to produce his automobile registration upon demand of a police officer and his case was adjourned until Monday. A second charge against May, one of loitering on Broadway in violation of the city charter, was dismissed by Judge Matthew V. Cahill after May had presented the facts to the court.

In another city court case, Charles W. Sawyer, 39, of New York city, was given a suspended sentence on a charge of public intoxication.

Abram Rappeleyea Dies of Heart Attack

ulation in the British capital that the Russians have demanded deferment of these plans in return for a settlement of the Berlin deadlock.)

Roberts and Ambassador Yves Chateignieu conferred with Smith last night in the latter's office. The meeting followed an earlier series of three-power conferences yesterday.

The context of the replies from Washington, London and Paris to their envoys' reports of the Stalin talks were kept secret and it was not known whether another meeting with the Soviet prime minister would be for the purpose of giving the replies of the western powers to Soviet proposals.

It has been reliably reported, however, that Monday's meeting dealt with the Berlin situation and East-West differences in Germany generally.

Francois Seydoux, political and diplomatic advisor to the French military governor in Germany, had joined the three-power talks here. This would indicate that Berlin figures prominently in the negotiations.

Going to London
Announcement that Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak is going to London today to confer with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin strengthened belief in British circles that the six-power agreement on western Germany is a focal point in the Moscow talks.

Belgium was one of the six countries which agreed with Britain, the United States, France, The Netherlands and Luxembourg several months ago to establish a west German government.

Delay in forming such a government would complicate plans for incorporating Germany into the European recovery program.

Before the Moscow talks British officials anticipated that Russia was almost certain to demand shelving of the west German government plan as a price for lifting the Berlin blockade.

In turn, British leaders have declared that lifting of the blockade is a condition for the opening of a four-power conference on ending East-West differences in Europe.

British officials said they expect it will be early next week before the Moscow talks have gotten far enough to discover whether such a conference is likely to develop.

Bomb Is Tossed At Troops Around Univis Lens Plant

Dayton, O., Aug. 6 (AP)—A smoke bomb was hurled today among National Guard troops patrolling the strike-troubled Univis Lens Co. plant today.

Ten guardsmen hit the ground as the missile went off some 100 feet from the company grounds and failed to see the occupants of a car from which the bomb was tossed.

Col. George Schiele of the Ohio Guard said the bomb was government-made and commonly used to throw up smoke and cause confusion. It was wrapped in paper bags and was contained in a corrugated box, the Guard commander added.

The National Guard totaling some 1,400 men was ordered to the Univis plant four days ago by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert after a series of picket line skirmishes. These involved C.I.O. United Elec-

Communists Take Unanimous Vote Against Browder

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Communist party has refused to reinstate its one-time national leader, Earl Browder.

By a unanimous vote, the party's 14th annual convention yesterday rejected Browder's appeal for restoration of his membership.

The 57-year-old Browder, wartime Communist leader and once the symbol of the party in America, was deposed as expelled as a member in 1946 after he was accused of favoring cooperation with capitalism.

The convention's presiding committee recommended that his request for reinstatement be denied on grounds that he has continued to express anti-Marxist views and to engage in anti-party activity.

The committee added that "the request for readmission was in itself a disguised form of anti-party activity and a continuation of Mr. Browder's efforts to split the party and discredit it."

A spokesman said the committee felt Browder could "do more damage inside than outside."

Browder early last month submitted his request for readmission. The request as released by William Z. Foster, party head, said in part:

"Events in connection with Yugoslavia reveal serious dangers to the world movement for socialism. Many, including myself, have hitherto had an inadequate understanding of these dangers.

"In such a moment all other consideration must give way to the necessary unity of the world movement and the protection of its achievement."

His letter added that "the enemy camp, making use of my expulsion from the party, now tries to manipulate with my name to extend their disruptive efforts."

"My only desire is to strengthen the camp of peace, democracy and socialism."

Browder could not be reached for comment on the rejection of his appeal.

Thomas Edison was granted 1097 patents, of which 356 pertain to electrical lighting and power distribution.

Bulldog Has Part In Apprehension Of Bank Robber

Berkeley, Calif., Aug. 6 (AP)—A bank robber lay dead today because an aged and testy bulldog resented invasion of his privacy.

The robber, who told police he was Isaac G. Fox, and had served prison time in Tennessee, snatched an F.B.I. agent's gun while being questioned, and killed himself.

It was 3:05 p. m. yesterday when Mrs. Levenne Ames opened the door of a branch of the Bank of America to let out a late customer. Fox pushed his way in.

Drawing a revolver, he covered the 11 bank employees and quickly collected between $7,000 and $8,000. Then he drove away.

But Fox did not know the city. A mile away he drove into a dead-end street. He abandoned his car and leaped into a backyard.

There lived Buggs, a 12-year-old toy bulldog. Buggs made an angry run at the intruder. Fox kicked him, and the dog's yelp of pain brought his mistress, Mrs. Frank J. Goldfuss.

Mrs. Goldfuss called her husband and together they pursued Fox in their car. They overtook him two blocks away.

"Why did you kick my dog?" Mrs. Goldfuss cried.

Fox drew his gun, took the Goldfuss' car and started to drive away.

Mrs. Goldfuss screamed. Motorcycle policeman Connie Poules roared up.

Fox put his gun to his head. Twice he pulled the trigger and twice the gun failed to fire. He was disarmed, the money was recovered, and Fox was taken to the North Oakland police station.

There Fox made his last snatch—for the F.B.I. gun that killed him.

A former actor in musical comedy, dramatic productions and moving pictures, the Rev. D. L. Haynes, has assumed his duties as the new pastor of St. Mark's A.M.E. Church, Foxhall avenue near Broadway, coming to Kingston from a pastoral at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Born in Oklahoma of Sioux Indian descent, Mr. Haynes attended the Carlisle Indian School at Carlisle, Pa., and spent some time as an undergraduate in Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Morris Brown University, Atlanta, Ga., a master of arts degree from the University of Chicago, and a bachelor of divinity degree from Turner Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga. He also took courses in accounting and bookkeeping at the College of the City of New York.

Mr. Haynes gave up his studies for the ministry to spend some years on the stage. He had roles in a number of musical comedies including "Seven Eleven," "Shuffle Along," "The Ziegfeld Follies" and "Showboat." His wife, Mrs. Rosa B. Haynes, is also of Indian descent, numbering Choctaws among her ancestors.

Last night even though the weather was unfavorable 632 dogs were immunized at rabies immunization clinics held in Highland, Stone Ridge, Olive Bridge, Woodstock and New Paltz.

The total number of dogs immunized is 3,207, or 27.4 per cent. We still have 4,983 dogs to go in order to reach the 70 per cent quota necessary for designation.

The Ulster County Rabies Advisory Council wants to state that a few dogs still are running at large and until 70 per cent of the dogs of the county are immunized all dogs must be confined.

Anyone who was unable to bring his dog to a clinic last night is advised to go to another clinic at a future date.

The breakdown of the clinic is: Highland, 125; Stone Ridge, 130; Olive Bridge, 135; Woodstock, 114; and New Paltz, 128.

Navy Board Views Wreckage of Plane In Which 10 Died

Miami, Fla., Aug. 6 (AP)—A Navy board of inquiry today studied the charred wreckage of a Navy transport plane in which 10 men were killed. Reports that there was a wave aboard, making the toll 11, later were found to be false, the Navy said.

The plane crashed and burned after a collision with a Stearman training plane 23 miles north of here late yesterday. The two occupants of the trainer parachuted to safety. The weather was good.

The plane, an R4D which corresponds to the C-47 and the DC-3, was en route from Norfolk, Va., to Cuba, with a scheduled stop at the Naval Air Station's Master Field in suburban Opa-Locka, almost within sight of the scene of the crash. It had reported to the control tower seconds before the collision.

A Navy enlisted man flying in the area said both pilots apparently saw each other and pulled up, one on top of the other. He estimated they were flying at about 2,000 feet.

Occupants of the training plane were Thomas M. Poe, Jr., 27, and John Hackett, a student.

Those killed in the collision included: W. Hernandez, an enlisted man, 81 S. 8th street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and O. Rodriguez, 22 E. 117th street, New York, a passenger.

Groves Denies He Sent Uranium to Russia During War

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—The man who headed America's wartime atomic bomb project says he never shipped any uranium to the Soviet Union.

Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, questioned yesterday about a congressman's statement that 1,300 pounds of uranium compound were shipped to Russia during the war, said:

"I did not ship it. As a retired army officer it would not be proper for me to answer that question fully."

Groves's statement was made in a radio interview with CBS. Asked whether, if such uranium shipments were made, they were made without his knowledge, he said:

"That would be a fairly good assumption."

Rep. John McDowell (R-Pa.), chairman of a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said in Washington yesterday the uranium shipments were made after "tremendous pressure" was put on the U.S. Government.

Bishop Attacked

downstairs, police said, Pike waited an hour and a half for Bishop Heron to return from Boston.

Higgins said the gunman recounted how he confronted the bishop with a pistol in the driveway of his home, fired two shots at him as he fled and then forced him to return to the house where he robbed him of $25 and keys to his automobile.

"I wish I hit him," Higgins quoted Pike as saying.

Lang said Pike also told police he took a .22 calibre target pistol and a double barreled shotgun and cut the telephone wires to the bishop's home before he escaped in the car.

The three weapons and ammunition were found in the car when Pike was arrested.

The 71-year-old clergyman reported he was fired at after Pike told him of killing Zayka and declared "one or two more dead ones do not matter."

Pike was paroled from Concord last fall after serving a little more than a year of a five year sentence for breaking and entering and larceny.

Zayka, whose parents live in Boston, had resided with the bishop for seven years. He graduated as an honor student from Hudson High School in June.

Egyptian Stages 'Sit Down' Strike

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—A big Egyptian strike in the middle of the mat during Olympic Greco-Roman wrestling today and made the referee change his decision.

Light heavyweight K. E. Nilsson of Sweden tossed Ibrahim Orabi over his head and the referee said Nilsson won by a fall.

The Egyptians protested loudly. Orabi, to express his distaste, stretched out on the mat and refused to judge.

For five minutes officials waited for him to get going but no. Finally in desperation they called Nilsson back out of the dressing room and ordered the match to continue.

Nilsson won by a fall. This time there was no squawk from the Egyptian.

Rain Brings Relief But Water Is Low

After 10 days during which not a trace of rain fell in this area, a storm finally broke over this city Thursday afternoon and by early this morning 1.45 inches of rain had fallen, according to the rain gauge at the city hall. More than half of the total fell between the hours of 6 and 11 p. m. Thursday, the gauge showed.

The rain has helped in relieving the conditions at the local reservoirs. Superintendent John J. Byrne of the Water Department said, but it is still necessary to observe the ban on sprinkling lawns and gardens. He said that the Elmwater reservoir might be up to normal level by tomorrow, and that he expects to make an announcement relative to sprinkling at that time. However, he indicated, that if and when it becomes possible to permit sprinkling he will probably have to restrict it to a limited time each day.

Total rainfall figures in Kingston for the month of July are not available because the rain gauge at the city hall was being repaired during a part of that month. The New York City Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity reported that the July rainfall at Brown Station at the Ashokan reservoir was 2.58 inches. That department pointed out that the monthly total was less than the 2.88 inches which fell in one 24-hour period in New York city on July 21 and 22.

Greeks Repel Seven Counterattacks

Athens, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Greek army repelled today seven desperate counterattacks by Communist guerrillas fighting to keep open their last main supply line from Albania.

A communique said Markos Vafiades' forces mounted their attacks in the 'Nestorian area in an effort to hold the vital Aliakmon River Valley following the loss of Steno yesterday. Steno was the key to Markos supply route from Albania.

National forces followed up their most successful week of the two-year war with advances so swift they were unable to tabulate enemy dead and captured war booty, the communique said.

Earlier, remnants of Markos men were reported fleeing toward Albania after a 48-hour hammering by Greek army forces.

Frontline dispatches today said the army is pushing forward supplies and equipment quickly in an effort to prevent Markos from regrouping.

Tennessee Voters Hand Crump His First Big Defeat

Hashville, Tenn., Aug. 6 (AP)—The Tennessee electorate apparently has handed Democratic political leader E. H. Crump of Memphis his first major ballot box defeat in 20 years.

It appeared to be a double defeat for the 72-year-old Crump in yesterday's violence-punctuated statewide Democratic primary and county general election.

Both the candidates he backed—for the U. S. Senate and for governor—were trailing far behind today on nearly complete unofficial returns. Republicans also held their primary yesterday but voting was light.

Rep. Estes Kefauver, veteran of 10 years in the lower House of Congress, was in the lead over Crump-supported Judge John A. Mitchell for the U. S. Senate. Senator Tom Stewart, the incumbent seeking re-election, was second man in this race. Mitchell was third.

Gordon Browning likewise was far ahead of Governor Jim McCard seeking reelection to a third term, in the gubernatorial race.

While Kefauver and Browning were piling up a big vote in Crump's Shelby county (Memphis), there was bloodshed on the other side of the state, in south-east Tennessee. One man was shot and killed from ambush and another was wounded in the Cooper Basin section near Benton, seat of Polk county.

Polk is adjacent to McMinn county, where an ex-G.I. coalition overthrew a long-entrenched political machine in a bloody election day gun battle at Athens, the county seat, in the August, 1946, election.

The apparent loss for Crump was the first for him in a statewide election since 1928, when he backed the candidacy of Hill McAlister for governor in the Democratic primary only to lose in a close count to Henry Horton.

The count in yesterday's election from 1,991 precincts of approximately 2,300 in the state stood:

For Senator: Kefauver 141,178. Mitchell 72,875. Stewart 112,958.

In the governor's race the returns from 1,974 precincts gave: Browning 200,688. McCard 148,314.

Crump declined comment early today. McCard and Stewart likewise were silent. But Kefauver and Browning jubilantly claimed victory.

Meanwhile Carroll Reese, until recently chairman of the Republican National Committee, easily won the G.O.P. nomination for senator. Hillbilly entertainer Roy Acuff was the nominee for governor in the Republican primary.

The voting in the Republican primary was scant. In overwhelming Democratic Tennessee, Democratic nominees usually win. Republicans seldom have a look-in but Reese and Acuff say they're going to make a race of it in the November general election.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 6 (AP)—Frank Cahill of New York is spending this week with his wife and two children at their rented bungalow on the Leonard Ruckert place in the village center.

The drought at this writing is assuming serious proportions. There is a report of some 20 fingerling trout, found dead in a small pool in a local brook where they had been trapped and were without sufficient fresh water.

Charles Greene, well known Route 28 farmer, is taking an enforced vacation as a result of being injured in a haying accident. Mr. Greene received severe facial lacerations when struck by the tire of a horse-drawn rake and was attended by Dr. Harry P. VanWagonen of Kingston.

Edwin Swenson, Jr., of Long Island is spending some time with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Horner Markle, Sr., at "Twin Maples."

Blackberry hunters are in for a disappointment this season, according to one observer who, in the course of a jaunt through the abandoned fields north of the village, found only a few handfuls. This is in marked contrast to conditions the past two years when the fruit (botanically speaking) hung heavy on every bush.

Strike Predicted Among Truckers; Letters Are Sent

Newark, N. J., Aug. 6 (AP)—A strike Sept. 1 which would tie up all trucking in the north-Jersey-New York area is predicted by a spokesman for the industry.

Bernard Flynn, counsel for most of north Jersey's trucking firms, in letters to truckers yesterday, advised that preparations be made to move all freight now on hand in view of the possibility of a general strike of great length.

Lack of progress in new contract negotiations with Local 478, A.F.L. Teamsters and Chauffeurs, was indicated by Flynn as a sign that the strike would take place. The union has filed charges of unfair labor practices with the National Labor Relations Board against the Associated Express and Truck Owners of New Jersey, Inc. Truckers and union officials attended an informal hearing at the N.L.R.B. regional office in New York last Tuesday, but arrived at no agreement.

The union is seeking a new contract containing a wage increase and other benefits. Present wages were listed at $1.68 1/2 per hour for trailer drivers, other drivers $1.48 1/2, platform men $1.32 and helpers $1.15 1/2.

The contract would cover Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Bayonne, Perth Amboy and Trenton in New Jersey, and New York city and Westchester county in New York.

At Highland Summer Theatre

Miss Elaine Hoover, senior at New Paltz State Teachers College, appears this week in a stage production of "Family Upstairs" at the Highland Grange Summer Theatre in Highland. Miss Hoover is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover, 10 McDowell Place, Newburgh. As a student at the Newburgh Free Academy she participated in a series of weekly radio programs produced over Station WGNV. During her three years at New Paltz State Teachers College she has been a member of the New Paltz Players, having played the roles of Elvira in "Blithe Spirit" and Mrs. Gibbs in "Our Town."

Fashion Leads A Double Life

COME-APART hostess gowns which render their tops to fill other wardrobe needs are a new designing idea in "at home" clothes. Trimmed with handsome skirts which wrap around or tie on are separate tops, designed to do double duty. A bolero top doubles as a bed jacket. A stylized blouse leaves a dinner-at-home skirt to keep company with a daytime suit.

Legion Clambake Slated
For Alpine on August 15

Commander Donald Moore today was very optimistic about the success of the American Legion clambake scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 15, at the Alpine, off Route 32.

"All we need is good weather to make the bake one of the most successful in the history of Kingston Post," he told a reporter. "Tickets are selling rapidly, and we look for a record attendance," he added.

Roy Jacob and Lester Barth, two World War 1 veterans, who have served successfully on clambake committees in past years are in charge of the event which is for Legionnaires and their friends. Starting time of the bake is 2 p. m.

Increasing the heat under a vessel of boiling water only changes the water into steam more rapidly.

TUXEDOS ON SUNDAYS?

Obviously from a man (even though sent anonymously) comes this terse message: "Please, Mrs. Post, correct your former answer to a reader that wearing tuxedos on Sunday evening is correct. It is just as incorrect as the manner in which I am sending you this message."

Sorry to disagree with you! Although tuxedos may not be exacted or even customary in certain localities, they are nevertheless correct.

Marriage Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: Because of different religions, my fiancé and I are being married by a Justice of the Peace. Would an announcement in our local papers be sufficient or must individual announcements be sent?

Answer: No announcement in the newspaper can take the place of those sent out by you.

Flowers to Anniversary Couple

Dear Mrs. Post: When sending flowers to a couple who are giving an anniversary party in the evening at the club, shall these flowers be sent to the house or to the club at which they are giving the party?

Answer: Preferably to the house where enjoyment of them certainly would be much more personal and longer lasting.

Those Confusing Suffixes!

Dear Mrs. Post: Was I correct in naming our baby "3rd"? His father is "Jr." and his grandfather, still living, has the same name. Someone tells me I was wrong and he should have been called "2nd." Now I'm completely confused.

Answer: You are right. Second would have meant that the baby's uncle and not his father has the same name.

Find Own Way?

Dear Mrs. Post: After I've finished a dance with a boy who has put in on my partner, is he supposed to take me back to him or do I find my own way?

Answer: He should take you back.

Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 502, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," gives suggestions for notes as well as the color and quality of paper. It is obtainable by sending 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, care of this paper, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Hinges on Date Line
New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—A court decision on the filing of a writ of habeas corpus by Lloyd Church died Monday. The decision was caused by the death of a justice of the New York state Supreme Court Judge Hines, a vacation cruise in the East on the international dateline, a China Sea. Aboard ship it was Tuesday, August 3, since the vessel had crossed the international dateline.

There are more than 18,000 picture theatres in the United States.

Well, Well, Well—Gasoline!
Denver (AP)—Imagine Carl Stone's surprise when a water well on his truck farm exploded. He soon found out why—gasoline had seeped into the well in blast-sized quantities. Stone doesn't know where the gasoline is coming from and neither do his neighbors, Philip Schwieder and Mrs. Bonnie Perko. All they know is that gasoline is polluting their wells and threatening their gardens. Schwieder claims he pumped 6,000 gallons of gasoline from his well in three months—gasoline good enough to use in machinery on his dairy farm. City and state oil experts can't figure it out. There are oil refineries nearby, but officials say they couldn't be losing that much gasoline.

The forest industry is the second largest primary industry in Canada. Light travels about two-thirds as fast in glass as it does in water.

Colonials Face Long Stand at Stadium

Will Play Five Straight Nights

The rains came and they were welcome respite for Manager Eddie Kobesky and the harrassed Colonials last night. They go back to the business of trying to snap a seven game losing streak tonight against the Poughkeepsie Chiefs in the Bridge City.

Kingston digs in for a five-day home stand with a single game against the Bridgeport Bees Saturday night at municipal stadium. Manager Kobesky and the club followers were hoping for a resurgence in batting power by the Colonials who were almost completely helpless before the high powered Port Chester staff. They bunched into a string of 34 consecutive scoreless innings. The trouble at the moment appears to be utter inability to hit the long ball.

Pitching Good

The Colonials came up with a few top grade pitching performances against the league leaders. Joe Kania was outstanding in two games, while Red Turner dropped a 1-0 heartbreaker to Larry Cauvel, the little southpaw. Even Kobesky shone in a relief role.

Just where the batting power is going to come from is pure speculation. Aside from Kobesky nobody has hit for extra bases with any consistency.

Butka Gone

Eddie Butka was expected to deliver some power pokes but his extra base activities were confined to one homer and a couple of doubles. Eddie is now back in Pittsburgh tending his bowling alley business and it seems unlikely that he will be available for the remainder of the season.

With Harry Petty and Dan Rourke collaborating with Kania, Turner and Eddie over the long weekend, the Colonials may generate enough batting punch to pull away from the Stamford Pioneers who are breathing hot on their necks in that dubious battle to escape the cellar position.

About 300 residents of the Town of Olive will attend Saturday's game as part of Oliver Chamber of Commerce Night. Five field events will be staged before the game and there will be several prizes awarded to the players.

Al Schnacht, the Clown Prince of Baseball, comes to town Tuesday night to stage his pantomime specialty.

Horsehoes first were used in 500 B. C. specimens having been found in ruins of old British roads of that period.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Dixie Walker, the old "Peepul's Chere" of Flatbush, is hardly ever missed in Brooklyn these days—all because of the fine all-around play of his successor in right field, Gene Hermanski.

As a matter of fact, during most of the campaign, it's been "as Hermanski goes so go the Dodgers." Trace Gene's fluctuating batting average and you get the full and rise of the Dodgers this season.

Hermanski enjoyed the greatest batting day of his brief big league career yesterday when he crushed three home runs and almost single-handedly paved the way for the Dodgers' 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Gene clubbed in five runs to enable Rookie Carl Erskine to win his initial major league start.

Dodgers Second

Hermanski's big stick shoved the Dodgers past the St. Louis Cardinals into second place by a fraction of a percentage point. They now trail the Braves by four and a half games, the closest they've been to the top this season.

Newcombe Nips Union

Newcombe Oil defeated Union Hose, 3 to 2, in the opening game of the third round in the City Softball League, with Chicken Smith, besting Joe Amato in a pitching duel.

Smith gave up six hits, three to Jack Buchanan, while Amato was touched up for seven. Babe Riggins had two safeties including a double and Bob Gill had a two-bagger for the only extra base blows.

Union scored twice in the first on Haber's walk, a passed ball, Buchanan's single and a two base error by Murray. Newcombes tied the score in their half with two outs. Riggins doubled down the right field line, Kaman walked and Bob Gill chased both runners across with the second double of the inning.

The Olmen clinched the game in the fourth when Leininger and MacCollam walked with one out and pulled a double steal. Titus' single scored Leininger with the winning run but the batter was out trying to stretch his hit into a double.

Olympic Track Events Fail To Produce Double Winner

By TED SMITS

Olympic Stadium, Wembley, England, Aug. 6 (AP)—Unlike Olympic games of the past, no single dominant hero is emerging in 1948—and a women's name will lead all the rest.

When Mal Whitfield finished third in the 400 meter run, the last man with a chance to become a double winner in track lost out.

So it is a woman's Olympics—Mrs. Fannie Blankers-Koen and Micheline Ostermeyer in track already have two gold medals and can win more, and Mrs. Victoria Draves and Karen Harup in swimming are on the way.

The London games will have no man's name to add to the lustrous list that includes Jessie Owens in 1936, Eddie Tolan in 1932, Percy Williams in 1928, and Paavo Nurmi in 1924.

The only man who has come close to two single victories—excluding the relays—is Arthur Wint of Jamaica, who was close second to Whitfield of the United States in the 800, and who won the 400 in '46.2, upsetting not only Whitfield but favored Herb McKenley of Jamaica as well.

Yesterday's lack of American track winners was compensated for by smashing victories by five American shells in the Thames rowing and Dr. Sammy Lee's championship in high diving.

The last four were Whitfield, timed in '46.9, Dave Bolen of Colorado '47.2, Morris Curotta of Australia '47.9, and George Guida of Villanova '50.2.

Now that no man is coming out a double champion, the attention focuses on the women.

Mrs. Blankers-Koen, a 30-year-old Dutch housewife and mother of two, already has won the 100 meters and 80 meter hurdles and is on her way to one and possibly two more championships.

Michelle Ostermeyer of France, slender and pretty, is the discus and shot champion.

In swimming pretty, quiet Mrs. Draves has won the spring board diving and today competes in the high tower, her specialty.

Miss Harup, a powerful Dane, has won the backstroke in record time, and is aiming at the women's 400 meter free style.

In men's swimming, although the United States is making a sensational sweep, no one man is winning more than one event.

Both are immensely popular with the big crowds that have come to Wembley.

With the games half over—they end August 14—the United States has riveted down another great triumph in men's track. America has won eight championships out of 18 contested, with possibly three more victories to come. Sweden is second with three, while seven other nations have one each—Belgium, Finland, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Australia, Hungary and Jamaica.

In the unofficial team standings based on 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the six places, the United States started the seventh day leading with 164, followed by Sweden 63, Finland 29, Australia and Jamaica 24 each, France 18 1/2, Norway 17 1/2, Italy 16, Hungary 16, and Czechoslovakia 15.

Montreal—Johnny Greco, 153 1/2, Montreal, knocked out Eric Boon, 150, Great Britain, 3.

The Hall of Fame for Great Americans is on the campus of New York University.

Locke, Barron Tied in Shanter

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP)—Eight highly-touted pros today began the last round of the Tam O'Shanter scramble for top money of $5,000 only four strokes apart—and an extra-hole playoff seemed likely.

Two past champions held a one stroke advantage as the tourney turned toward the most unpredictable finish in an eight year history. Bobby Locke, the defending titlist, unhooked a third round 36-34—70, two under par, yesterday to overhaul Herman Barron, the 1946 winner, who took a standard 72, both pulled up at the 51-hole mark with 208s—eight under the regulation.

Only one stroke behind at 209 were Pete Cooper of Gainesville, Florida Open champion; and veteran Lloyd Mangrum.

Small Crowd Sees Tippy Larkin Win

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—The 20th Century Sporting Club, faced with a major outdoor promotional scrap, is finding it hard to attract paying customers to its weekly indoor boxing shows.

Only 4,417 fans showed up last night to watch Tippy Larkin of Garfield, N. J., stop Willie Beltram of New York in five rounds. The crowd was one of the smallest for a Madison Square Garden fight in recent years.

Opposing the 20th Century in the outdoor field is the new Tournament of Champions. The T. of C. has lined up a double-header championship card in Brooklyn in late September, the same week 20th Century is due to present a show in one of the New York baseball parks.

On the Brooklyn program Tony Zale will defend his middleweight crown against Marcel Cerdan while Gus Lesnevich tries to win back the light heavyweight title from Freddie Mills of England.

Twentieth Century so far hasn't signed a fight for its show.

Commission Rules On Artificial Practice

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—A commission appointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury has approved the practice of artificial insemination when it involves husband and wife.

But it condemned the artificial insemination of a woman from a man other than her husband. It urged that the practice be outlawed outside the marriage relation.

The commission of doctors, theologians and lawyers published its findings in a 70-page report.

It held that between husband and wife "assisted insemination" (that is, following an attempt at a normal sex act) may be justified and, if that fails to produce offspring, other methods "may be justifiable."

But the practice of artificial insemination of a woman from a man other than her husband, the commission said, "involves a breach of the marriage. It violates the exclusive union set up between husband and wife. It degrades the child begotten and deceives both his putative kinsmen and society at large."

The archbishop, the Most Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, subscribed to the findings. He noted, however, that the report is not to be taken as a Church of England document. The Rev. W. H. Matthews, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, was the only member of the commission to differ with the view that artificial insemination by a donor should be outlawed.

'Met' Unions Are Called to Meeting

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Unions connected with the Metropolitan Opera have been summoned to a meeting Monday to seek means to alter the Met's decision not to open during the coming season.

The meeting was called yesterday by Lawrence Tibbett, Metropolitan baritone and president of the A.F.L. American Guild of Musical Artists (A.G.M.A.), which represents singers, chorus and ballet members.

It said the purpose of the meeting would be "to try to work out some way by which the Metropolitan Opera can continue next season."

In telegrams to the various employes unions, Tibbett said the season cancellation "affects the development of musical culture of over 600 persons."

In another quarter, it was reported that Theodore W. Kheel, director of the city's Labor Relations division, is studying the dispute between the unions and Opera Association which led to the decision to cancel the 1948-49 season.

Metropolitan directors announced the action Wednesday, saying that there was a $220,000 deficit last season and that they were unable to meet union demands for wage increases for the coming season.

The directors had reached an agreement with the A.G.M.A. and six other employe unions, but had failed to arrive at a settlement with five others, including the A.F.L. American Federation of Musicians.

Of the states in the United States, Nevada has the smallest number of persons per theatre seat—5.6.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Endplay Is Clue To Win Contract

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
Terre Haute, Ind., is a hotbed of tournament bridge. They have several very fine players there, including Walter O'Laughlin, a chemist associated with the Dow Chemical Co.

O'Laughlin made a rather unusual bid on today's hand. He opened with one no trump. Players using the point count like this type of no trump opening. When West bid two diamonds, North had to pass. But as O'Laughlin had a maximum one no trump, and the diamond suit well stopped, he bid two no trump. Then his partner correctly took him to three.

The opening lead of the six of spades was won by East with the ace. The eight of diamonds was returned, and O'Laughlin had a choice of plays, each of which would have worked. He put on the nine-spot and West won the trick with the ten of diamonds. West returned the four of spades, which was won in dummy with the king.

Now five rounds of clubs were cashed, then South cashed the queen of spades. West had discarded everything but the ace and eight of hearts, and the king-jack of diamonds. O'Laughlin could count eight tricks and needed the ninth. Reasoning that West must have the ace of hearts, declarer cashed the ace of diamonds and then led the queen of diamonds, forcing West to win. Now West had to cash the ace of hearts and lead the other heart. Of course O'Laughlin won this with the king for his ninth trick.

O'Laughlin had gone in with the queen of diamonds on the first diamond trick. West would have won with the king and come right back with the jack. However, declarer would have gone up with the ace of diamonds and made the same play on the hand.

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP)—The head of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers is looking for a "sharp break" in retail meat prices—ranging between one and five cents. James Elliott, of Minneapolis, here for the association's annual convention, said the break will come in the next 10 days or two weeks. Woman Trainer Clawed by Tigers

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 6 (AP)—The show went on inside the Shrine Circus tiger cage here last night even after three of the big cats badly clawed Mrs. Mabel Stark, 60-year-old veteran trainer.

Mrs. Stark, of Thousand Oaks, Calif., was treated today in her hotel room for shock and deep gouges on her thigh and ankle. She declined hospitalization.

Circus attendants said two of the eight tigers in the cage began fighting soon after the elderly woman began her act before 4,000 spectators. When she moved in to separate them, a third animal, recently added to the act, set upon her.

Disengaging herself deftly from the tiger's claws, Mrs. Stark ignored her bloodstained clothing and signals from circus officials to cut short the performance. For eight minutes she continued to crack her whip and put the animals through their paces.

She collapsed as she left the cage. Two physicians in the audience administered first aid.

Wreckage Thought That of Missing French Aircraft

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Flame-charged, splintered wreckage, found off the African coast in the South Atlantic, was believed today to have come from giant French flying boat missing since Sunday with 52 persons aboard.

The wreckage, including airplane seats, was found by the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Campbell, whose commander told headquarters here there was "little doubt" it was the remains of the 73-ton, six-engine air France Lateover 631.

The mammoth craft was en route from Martinique to West Africa when its last radio signal was heard shortly after midnight Saturday. None of those aboard was an American.

Early yesterday a U. S. Air Force B-29 bomber, part of a large fleet of ships and planes searching many hundred square miles of ocean for the lost seaplane, spotted wreckage and radioed the cutter Campbell, searching nearby.

The Campbell reported later that it was steaming slowly "through a sea literally covered with debris."

Capt. Beckwith Jordan, the Campbell's commanding officer, radioed headquarters here that "there is little doubt that the wreckage and debris . . . came from the plane being sought."

A message from Martinique said the plane's last known position was 19°27' north and 38°25' west. The Campbell's position at the time it found the wreckage was within 100 miles of that position.

Aboard the cutter was John Folk, Coast Guard correspondent, who radioed a dispatch to New York headquarters of the Coast Guard. He said an intensive search of the area followed the discovery of "leather-trimmed, rose upholstered seats."

"The plane seats thus far are the largest of several items taken aboard the Campbell to aid in determining the cause of the tragedy and are comparatively unmarred in sharp comparison to charred bits of plywood, a table top and a locker door," he reported.

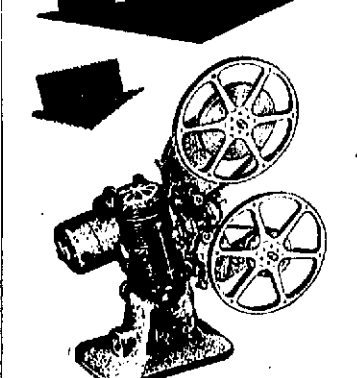

Folk added: "Coast Guard officers on board the Campbell believe there is no doubt that the plane was stricken by fire either before or after an explosion."

The Campbell continued its search for possible survivors.

Pitching Horseshoes By Billy Rose

When May marries December, it's usually safe to predict cool and cloudy weather. However, I know of one case where—but perhaps I'd better give it to you in sequence.

Last summer when Eleanor was in the country, I ate most of my dinners in a Viennese restaurant off Lexington Avenue. In addition to fine schnitzel, this place sports a small dance floor and a couple of weepy fiddlers.

Almost every time I went there, I saw an old man dining with a young girl. He wore thick specs and a hearing aid, and looked at least 30 years her senior.

Being as nosy as the next nosybody, I made inquiry of the headwaiter. "Tell me about Foxy Grandpa and his girl friend," I said.

"It isn't what you think," Walter informed me. "They're married."

"It doesn't figure to last," I wise-guyed. "By the time she's 30, he'll be ready for the rocks."

Walter snorted at only a Viennese headwaiter can.

When I dropped in the following month, I saw the girl dining with a boy her own age. Between courses they danced, and there was much whispering, laughing and cheek-to-cheeking. The old gent with the hearing machine was nowhere in sight.

"Ah ha," I said to the headwaiter.

"Please, Mr. Rose," said Walter "no ah has. Her husband is in Europe on business and she's dining with a fellow who works in his office. Where's the humor?"

"It's my guess," I said, "that Rover Boy isn't going to like it when he hears about her young friend with the football shoulders."

Last night, in a mood for fiddles, I dined at the Viennese restaurant again.

"What happened to the May-December combination?" I asked the headwaiter. "Did it split up?"

"I believe that was your prediction," said Walter stiffly. "Let's have the details," I said. "I promise not to gloat."

"I don't think you'll care for the story," said the headwaiter. "When the husband got back in November, he brought his wife here the first night to celebrate. I served them myself, and seldom have I seen two people so happy, especially the man. But when I brought the champagne, I noticed there was something wrong. The wife had stopped talking and the husband was fumbling with his hearing device."

"As I poured the wine, I heard some customers gabbling in the next booth. They were people much like yourself, sir—quick to draw bad conclusions. They were gossiping about the wife and the young fellow she had been seeing while her husband was away."

"I noticed the girl hadn't touched her dinner, and asked if anything was wrong. She said no, the food was fine, but she wasn't eating because of a headache."

"When her husband heard this, he said, 'Why didn't you tell me you had a headache? I would have been glad to take you home.'"

"I didn't suggest it," said the girl, "because I thought you wanted to stay and hear what was being said in the next booth."

"Good for her," I said to Walter. "At least she had spunk."

"When the husband paid the check," the headwaiter went on, "he took the tiny battery out of his hearing machine and dropped it on the table. 'The battery went dead shortly after we came in,' I heard him tell her. 'I was about to suggest going home myself, but I didn't want to spoil our celebration. As you know, I hate to read lips, even when they're as pretty as yours, my darling.'"

"What a lucky break for the wife," I said. "But next time . . ."

"There'll be no next time," said the headwaiter. "This marriage is for keeps."

"What makes you so positive?" I asked.

"I've known the husband for a long time," said Walter. "He's a wise and kind man. When the couple left, I took the battery he had dropped on the table and slipped it in my pocket. In the kitchen later, I tested it with a flashlight bulb. It worked perfectly."

150 Poultrymen After State Title

More than 150 poultrymen from all sections of the state will compete for championship honors in the 1948 New York State Chicken-of-Tameness contest to be held August 20-21, at the Chuckrow Dressing Plant in Troy.

State Chairman L. M. Hurd of Cornell University has announced that close to 10,000 birds will be on display in the contest, part of a nationwide program designed to produce superior meat-type chickens.

Two state championships, senior and junior, will be at stake. In addition to championship trophies and cash awards offered by A & P Food Stores to contestants displaying the outstanding samples of market poultry.

All chickens entered in the contest were hatched during the week of May 24, wingbanded, and have been inspected by state officials. Each contestant is required to ship 15 of his contest birds to the Troy dressing plant by August 18. The birds will be dressed and judged on August 20, and prize winners announced at a gala field day on August 21. The contest birds will be on display at the A & P Supermarket in Watervliet following the announcement of winners.

In addition to Chairman Hurd, the state committee conducting the program includes John A. Birkland of Buffalo, David Chukrow of Troy, J. E. Clark of Ballston Lake, Prof. R. C. Ogle of Ithaca and J. C. Scholes of Cayuga.

B-29s Make Hop
Wiesbaden, Germany, Aug. 6 (AP)—Three U. S. B-29s took off here last night on a non-stop flight to Smoky Hill Air Base, Kansas. The planes carried extra fuel tanks for the hop. They had been on temporary duty here and are returning to their home base.

Vacamus Director Addresses Kiwanis

Progressive camping which includes an educational as well as recreational program teaches youngsters "lots about democracy," Allen Kramer, director of Camp Vacamus at Whiteport, told members of the local Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday.

This type of camping differs from the ordinary camp program in that it aims to sift out the interests and needs of the youngsters and provides opportunity for them to think for themselves, make their own decisions and govern themselves to an extent, he said.

Education of the individual is broadened, the speaker said, through experiences of living with other people, and this goes with the advantages of fresh air, sunshine and good food in such camps as that at Whiteport, which is operated by New York city.

Competition is not stressed as much as the need of cooperation and harmony in the group life of the youngsters, the speaker emphasized, and he held that "there is enough competition in society without stimulating it."

Camping, he said, "is a baby," in the field of education and social work. Less than 10 per cent of the youngsters of New York currently go to camps, he reported. He urged that it should grow as a potent force in education because the youngsters, living together on a 24-hour basis, learn to give and take and respect the rights of others.

Most camp counselors today, he charged, are too young, and this will not be so, he indicated, once the full educational value of
